

FOOD SAFETY AND QUALITY MANAGEMENT POLICY

We understand Quality and Food Safety as the satisfaction of the needs and expectations of the market, involving all our clients, internal and external, and our suppliers and shareholders.

Besides, one of the basic pillars of our business project is the correct management of the aspects relating to health and safety at work.

The expectations of growth of our organization are based on the team work of all our collaborators, and are intended to enhance the internal promotion through the establishment of training plans (including the commitment and understanding of the GMP standards and the HARA Plan), to ensure the adequacy of existing or future human resources to the requirements of our implanted systems.

Additionally, our company will go beyond the mere compliance with the applicable safety requirement, ensuring compliance with legal regulations and other requirements.

Our investment policy is oriented to achieve sustained growth and constantly reverts on improvements to our infrastructures.

We are responsible for putting on the market safe products, controlled in all and each one of the processes of elaboration and in accordance with established or agreed specifications and complying with legal and regulatory requirements relating to primary packing materials (including authenticity standards), and other requirements that the organization subscribes, including compliance with legal requirements and other requirements of health and safety at work.

In occupational safety and health, we commit ourselves to:

- Conduct the consultation and participation of workers, and when it exists, of workers' representatives.
- Provide safe and healthy working conditions for the prevention of damage and/or impairment of health related to work that is appropriate to the purpose, size and context of the organization and the specific nature of its risks for HS and opportunities for HS.
- Eliminate the dangerous ones and reduce the risks for the HS.

Within the commitment to continuous improvement, ENTECO GROUP has a Quality Management System (according to ISO 9001, current edition), a Good Manufacturing Practices System (GMP according to ISO 15378, current edition), a Food Safety Management System based on HARA Plan and Safety and Health at Work Management System (according to ISO 45001, current edition). We assume the responsibility to continually improve its effectiveness, with a policy that serves as a reference for the definition of quality objectives and continuous improvement, and in general by the tools of the system, with the support of all stakeholders, taking into account the relationships with their environment.
